

American Catholic Philosophical Quarterly

The Journal of the American Catholic Philosophical Association

Edited by Robert Wood

Established in 1927, the American Catholic Philosophical Quarterly (ACPQ) is one of the premier philosophy journals in North America. This peer-reviewed journal has a rich and varied content, featuring scholarly articles, topical discussions, and book reviews dealing with all philosophical areas and approaches. Every third issue is dedicated entirely to the work and legacy of a particular thinker, and recent special issues have focused on Kant, St. Augustine, Thomas Reid, Medieval Islamic Thought, Peirce, Plotinus, Sartre, Albertus Magnus, Heidegger, and Descartes. ACPQ is available as a benefit of membership in the American Catholic Philosophical Association and is published on behalf of the ACPA by the Philosophy Documentation Center. More information about the journal is available online at www.pdcnet.org/acpq.html.

ACPQ is indexed in Academic Search Premier, American Humanities Index, Article@INIST, ArticleFirst, Arts & Humanities Citation Index, Catholic Periodical and Literature Index, Current Contents/Arts & Humanities, Expanded Academic ASAP, FRANCIS, Humanities Index/Abstracts, Index Philosophicus, InfoTrac OneFile, International Bibliography of Periodical Literature, International Bibliography of Book Reviews of Scholarly Literature, International Philosophical Bibliography, Periodicals Content Index, Philosopher's Index, Religious and Theological Abstracts, and Wilson OmniFile. Electronic access to the fulltext is provided through POIESIS: Philosophy Online Serials. More information is available at www.nlx.com/posp.

Annual membership in the American Catholic Philosophical Association also includes a subscription to the Proceedings of the American Catholic Philosophical Association, a 300-page volume of edited papers from the Association's annual meeting. Members of the American Catholic Philosophical Association thus receive two important scholarly publications each year as a benefit of membership—a great value!

journal of philosophical research

Michael DePaul, Editor

The Journal of Philosophical Research is uniquely committed to the advancement of scholarship in all areas of philosophical inquiry. This annual peer-reviewed journal publishes articles from any philosophical orientation, in English or French, that make a significant contribution to the field. The journal provides an outlet for important work such as translations, commentaries, and bibliographies that are sometimes difficult to publish because of their unusual length or complex format. JPR is particularly interested in helping new authors, and an outstanding group of more than 400 referees provides written comments on submitted manuscripts. In addition to the annual volume, JPR also supports the publication of special supplementary volumes in cooperation with the American Philosophical Association. JPR is sponsored by the Canadian Philosophical Association and the University of Notre Dame, and is published by the Philosophy Documentation Center. More information and tables of contents are available at www.pdcnet.org/jpr.html.

The Journal of Philosophical Research is indexed in Academic Search Premier, American Humanities Index, Current Abstracts, Expanded Academic ASAP, FRANCIS (beginning 2006), Index Philosophicus, InfoTrac OneFile, International Bibliography of Periodical Literature (IBZ), International Philosophical Bibliography, the MLA International Bibliography, and Philosopher's Index. Electronic access to the full text of 15 volumes is provided through POIESIS: Philosophy Online Serials and all remaining back issues will be digitized and added to POIESIS as quickly as possible. Abstracts and tables of contents of recent issues are available through EBSCO's Current Abstracts.

International Philosophical Quarterly

Joseph W. Koterski, S.J., Editor-in-Chief

International Philosophical Quarterly (IPQ) provides an international peer-reviewed forum in English for the exchange of basic philosophical ideas. Established at Fordham University in 1960, IPQ stands in the general tradition of theistic and personalist humanism, but without further restriction of school or philosophical orientation within these broad perspectives. It is open to the philosophical discussion of contemporary issues as well as historical studies in philosophy, and in each issue publishes articles, review articles, reviews, book notices and a list of books received. The journal circulates in 70 countries and enjoys contributions from authors around the world. IPQ numbers among its Associate Editors scholars from Europe and the Far East, and maintains a long-standing relationship with the Facultés Universitaires Notre-Dame de la Paix in Belgium. The journal is published by the Philosophy Documentation Center in cooperation with the Foundation for International Philosophical Exchange and more information about IPQ is available online at www.pdcnet.org/ipq.html.

Idealistic Studies

An Interdisciplinary Journal of Philosophy

Edited by Gary Overvold, Clark University

Idealistic Studies provides a peer-reviewed forum for the discussion of themes that relate to the tradition and legacy of philosophical Idealism. Established in 1971 as a vehicle for American Personalism and post-Kantian Idealism, the journal's mission has broadened to include other cognate topics, issues and philosophers. Its purview now includes historically earlier expressions as well as the inheritance of that past in the developments of late 19th to mid-20th century philosophy. The journal has become a venue for a number of philosophical movements that share Idealism in their genealogies, including Phenomenology, Neo-Kantianism, Historicism, Hermeneutics, Life Philosophy, Existentialism, and Pragmatism. The mission of Idealistic Studies is to provide a forum for writing that recognizes, whether by advocacy or criticism, the defining significance of consciousness and mind in the concerns of philosophy and other expressions of high culture.

Idealistic Studies is indexed in Article@INIST, Arts & Humanities Citation Index, Current Contents/Arts & Humanities, FRANCIS, International Philosophical Bibliography, Periodicals Content Index, and Philosopher's Index. Published authors include Rolf Ahlers, Norman Bowie, Peter Caws, Roderick Chisolm, A.C. Ewing, Newton Garver, Jean Grondin, Dieter Henrich, Dale Jacquette, Erazim Kohak, Joseph Margolis, Andrew Reck, Nicholas Rescher, Tom Rockmore, Charlene Haddock Seigfried, and Paul Weiss.

Electronic access to Idealistic Studies is provided through POIESIS: Philosophy Online Serials and all back issues of the journal are being digitized for this project. Tables of contents of recent issues are freely available.

PHILOSOPHY & THEOLOGY

MARQUETTE UNIVERSITY JOURNAL

Philosophy & Theology is a peer-reviewed journal that addresses all areas of interest to these two ancient disciplines and explores the common ground that joins them. Although Philosophy & Theology is not a journal of the philosophy of religion, one issue each year includes articles dedicated to critical contact with the thought and legacy of the theologian Karl Rahner. Rahner's creative appropriation of diverse theological and philosophical sources provided an innovative conceptual framework that established his reputation as one of the most influential systematic theologians in the Vatican II era. Philosophy & Theology is published for Marquette University by the Philosophy Documentation Center.

Philosophy & Theology is indexed in Academic Search Premier, Current Abstracts, Expanded Academic ASAP, Index Philosophicus, InfoTrac OneFile, International Bibliography of Periodical Literature (IBZ), International Bibliography of Book Reviews of Scholarly Literature (IBR), the MLA International Bibliography, Philosopher's Index, Religion Index, and Religious and Theological Abstracts. Electronic access is provided through POIESIS: Philosophy Online Serials and all issues are available to libraries that subscribe to both the journal and POIESIS. Abstracts and tables of contents are available through EBSCO's Current Abstracts. Philosophy & Theology has been available in electronic format since it was first published in 1986 and it can still be ordered on CD-ROM. The first ten volumes of the journal are also available on a fully searchable CD-ROM. More information about the journal is available at www.pdcnet.org/pt.html.

CONVERSION OF HUNDREDS OF BACK ISSUES
TO ELECTRONIC FORMAT

FREE ACCESS TO TABLES OF CONTENTS

POIESIS: Philosophy Online Serials is a subscription-based reference and publishing service offering electronic access to the full text of dozens of philosophy journals. Uniquely structured around journals in philosophy, POIESIS includes journals published by philosophical organizations, university presses, and commercial publishers in several countries. The complete content of more than 1,600 issues—over 150,000 pages of journal text—is now available, and most of the journals in POIESIS are not available in electronic format from any other service.

Our goal is to build a journal research infrastructure for the future that also offers access to a unique collection of full-text resources. Every word in every available issue is fully searchable. Tables of contents for all available issues are freely available to anyone who registers at the site. Bibliographic citations in indexing databases for articles or reviews in these issues can be linked to POIESIS. Back issues of many journals are being converted to electronic format for the project, and back issues available elsewhere will be linked to current or recent issues in POIESIS.

INTERNATIONAL INTERDISCIPLINARY CONFERENCE FOLLOWING DERRIDA: LEGACIES

October 4 – 7, 2006

The University of Manitoba, Winnipeg, Canada

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

PETER EISENMAN, CATHERINE MALABOU, MICHAEL NAAS

This commemorative conference will mark the second anniversary of the death of Jacques Derrida with a celebration of his work and an exploration of its promises, still to come. The occasion will be one for paying homage to Derrida by way of "counter-signing" his texts, or by way of "following," as he understood the term: in response to something other in a work, the attempt to make a difference. To register online please visit our website.

www.umanitoba.ca/mosaic

In conjunction with the 2006 commemorative conference celebrating Jacques Derrida's work, please watch for the September 2006 Mosaic special issue on Derrida. To advance order a copy of this issue, please send an email to mosaicjournal_orders@umanitoba.ca or visit our website to order a subscription.
