

THE JOURNAL OF PHILOSOPHY

VOLUME LXXXV, NUMBER 11
NOVEMBER 1988

Special Issue, Eighty-fifth Annual Meeting
American Philosophical Association, Eastern Division

page

- Symposium: What Is Still Valuable in Husserl's Analyses of Inner Time-consciousness
- 605 What Is Still Valuable in Husserl's Analyses of Inner Time-consciousness Peter K. McInerney
- 617 Comment on McInerney J. Claude Evans
- Symposium: Feminist Skepticism
- 619 Feminist Skepticism and the "Maleness" of Philosophy
Susan Bordo
- 630 Further Thoughts on a "Theoretics of Heterogeneity"
Naomi Scheman
- Symposium: Law and Society
- 632 The Politics of Friendship Jacques Derrida
- 645 On the Margins of Politics Thomas A. McCarthy
- Symposium: Individuation and Self-knowledge
- 649 Individualism and Self-knowledge Tyler Burge
- 664 Reply to Burge Donald Davidson
- Symposium: History of Philosophy as a Discipline
- 666 The History of Philosophy as a Discipline Michael Frede
- 673 The History of Philosophy as Actual Philosophy
Kenneth Schmitz

Published by The Journal of Philosophy, Inc.