

THE JOURNAL OF PHILOSOPHY

VOLUME LXXXVII, NUMBER 11

NOVEMBER 1990

Special Issue, Eighty-seventh Annual Meeting
American Philosophical Association, Eastern Division

page

- Symposium: Centennial of William James's Principles of Psychology
- 585 The Pragmatist Sieve of Concepts: Description versus Interpretation Charlene Haddock Seigfried
- 593 James and Freud Gerald E. Myers
- 600 Comments on Seigfried and Myers H. S. Thayer
- Symposium: Moral Cognitivism and Realism
- 602 Meaning and Value Stephen Schiffer
- 615 Schiffer on Meaning and Value Nicholas L. Sturgeon
- 617 A Relativist Alternative to Antirealism David B. Wong
- Symposium: Realism and Philosophy of Mathematics
- 619 A Problem in the Foundations of Set Theory Penelope Maddy
- Symposium: African Famine
- 629 African Famine: New Economic and Ethical Perspectives George R. Lucas, Jr.
- 642 Famine and Distribution William Aiken
- Symposium: The Vanishing Subject of Contemporary Discourse
- 644 The Vanishing Subject of Contemporary Discourse: A Pragmatic Response Vincent M. Colapietro
- 656 Subjects Constructed, Deconstructed, and Reconstructed John J. Stuhr
- Symposium: Cartesian Skepticism
- 658 Cartesian Skepticism and Inference to the Best Explanation Jonathan Vogel
- 667 Is Realism Really the Best Hypothesis? Berent Enç
- 669 NOTES AND NEWS

Published by The Journal of Philosophy, Inc.