

PHILOSOPHY & THEOLOGY
VOLUME 12 NUMBER 1 (1999)

SYMPOSIUM ON Fides et Ratio

1. Lieven Boeve, 3–24

The Swan or the Dove? Two Keys for Reading Fides et Ratio

2. John E. Thiel, 25–31

*Faith, Reason, and the Specter of the Enlightenment:
A Nonfoundationalist Reading of John Paul II's Fides et Ratio*

3. Jeannine Hill Fletcher, 33–42

*Reason, Holiness and Diversity:
Fides et Ratio through the Lens of Religious Pluralism*

4. Anthony J. Godzieba, 43–52

The Meanings of Fides et Ratio: Patterns, Strategies, and a Prediction

Victoria S. Harrison, 53–78

*Holiness, Theology and Philosophy:
von Balthasar's Construal of Their Relationship and Its Development*

Nicholas Okrent, 79–93

*Leibniz on Substance and God in
"That a Most Perfect Being Is Possible"*

Nicholas Rescher, 95–105

God's Place in Philosophy
(Non in philosophia recurrere est ad deum)

Philip Rossi, S.J., 106–108

Editor's Page

PHILOSOPHY & THEOLOGY
MARQUETTE UNIVERSITY JOURNAL

VOLUME 12 NUMBER 1

THE RAHNER PAPERS

Robert Masson, 109-110

Introducing the Annual Rahner Papers

Mary E. Hines, 111-130

*Karl Rahner on Development of Doctrine
How Relevant Is Rahner Today*

Paul G. Crowley, S.J., 131-154

Rahner, Doctrine and Ecclesial Pluralism

Richard Lennan, 155-185

Rahner's Theology of the Priesthood and the Development of Doctrine

Dennis O'Brien, 187-211

Sex before God: The Body of Prayer

Yves Congar, O.P., 213-219

*Loving Openness toward Every Truth
A Letter from Thomas Aquinas to Karl Rahner*