

PROCESS STUDIES

VOLUME 19 / NUMBER 4

WINTER / 1990

Special Issue on Personal Reflections on Process Thought

Edited by Santiago Sia

CHARLES BIRCH

219 Process Thought: Its Value and Meaning to Me

CHARLES BIRCH is Emeritus Professor of the University of Sydney, Australia, having been previously Challis Professor of Biology. He was joint recipient of the Templeton Prize for progress in religion for 1990. His address is: 5A/73 Yarranabbe Re., Darling Point NSW 2027, Australia.

WILLIAM A. BEARDSLEE

230 Process Thought on the Borders Between Hermeneutics and Theology

WILLIAM A. BEARDSLEE is Emeritus Professor of Religion, Emory University, and Director of the Process and Faith Program of the Center for Process Studies, 1325 N. College Ave., Claremont, CA 91711.

HIROSHI ENDO

235 From Lorenzen Through Husserl to Whitehead

HIROSHI ENDO is Professor of Philosophy at Waseda University, Tokyo, Japan, and Director of the Japan Society for Process Studies. His publications are mostly in Japanese, but he has also published in German and English. His address is: 29-10, 6 Chome, Sakuradai, Nerima-Ku, Tokyo, Japan.

JAN VAN DER VEKEN

240 Process Thought from a European Perspective

JAN VAN DER VEKEN is Professor of Philosophy at the Katholieke Universiteit Leuven, Kardinaal Mercierplein 2, 3000 Leuven, Belgium, and Chairman of the European Society for Process Thought. He has published extensively on process thought in Dutch.

SANTIAGO SIA

248 Process Thought as Conceptual Framework

SANTIAGO SIA is Director of Asian and Pacific Studies, and Associate Professor of Philosophy, Loyola Marymont University, Loyola Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90045. He is the author of God in Process Thought (Martinus Nijhoff, 1985) and editor of Charles Hartshorne's Concept of God: Philosophical and Theological Responses (Kluwer Academic Publishers, 1989).

INTERVIEW

JOHN KENNEDY AND PIOTR GUTOWSKI

256 Charles Hartshorne on Metaphilosophy, Person and Immortality, and Other Issues

CHARLES HARTSHORNE is Ashbel Smith Professor Emeritus, University of Texas at Austin and is the leading living representative of process thought. His address is: 724 Sparks Avenue, Austin, TX 78705. PIOTR GUTOWSKI is Assistant to the Chair of the History of Modern Philosophy, Katolicki Uniwersytet Lubelski, Al. Raclawickie 14, 20-950 Lubin, Poland. His articles on process thought are in English and Polish. JOHN KENNEDY, a doctoral candidate at the Angelicum University in Rome, is writing his dissertation on Charles Hartshorne's doctrine of immortality. His address is: Pontificio Collegio Irlandese, Via Dei SS Quatro 1, 00184-Roma.

CRITICAL STUDIES AND REVIEWS

JOHN B. COBB, JR.

279 The Rehabilitation of Whitehead: An Analytic and Historical Assessment of Process Philosophy,
George R. Lucas, Jr.

283 Announcements

285 Index to Volume 19 (1990)