
Contents

Martin Heidegger about 1920 Illustration by Michael E. Zimmerman	6
Introduction by Michael E. Zimmerman	7
Invited Essays
“Supposing Truth to be a Woman. . .”: Heidegger, Nietzsche, Derrida by John D. Caputo	15
Between Technē and Technology: The Ambiguous Place of Technology in Being and Time by Hubert L. Dreyfus	23
Selected Essays
Meaning and the Ontological Difference by Steven Crowell	37
Authenticity and Interaction: The Account of Communication in Being and Time by John McCumber	45
The Twofold Task: Heidegger’s Foundational Historicism in Being and Time by Charles Guignon	53
Being and Time Said All at Once: An Analysis of Section 42 by Richard J. Klonoski	62
Hermeneutics as Gesture: A Reflection on Heidegger’s “Logos (Herakleitos B50)” Study by David Michael Levin	69
Violence or Violation? Heidegger’s Thinking “About” Nietzsche by Alan D. Schrift	79
On Being and Unity in Heidegger by David A. White	87
Ontology, the Ontological Difference, and the Unthought by Carol J. White	95
Earth, World, and Fourfold by David Weinberger	103
Biographical Notes on Contributors	111
