

Contents for September 1961

VOLUME SEVEN

NUMBER THREE

CIVIL WAR RAILROADS

Introduction	229
by Robert Selph Henry, Guest Editor
Railroads in the Confederacy	231
by Robert C. Black, III
The Baltimore and Ohio—First in War	239
by Festus P. Summers
The Richmond, Fredericksburg, and Potomac, 1861-1865	255
by Charles W. Turner
The Role of Railroads in the Atlanta Campaign	264
by Armin E. Mruck
A Gallery of Civil War Railroads	272
edited by George B. Abdill
The Illinois Central: Thoroughfare for Freedom	273
by Robert M. Sutton
Lee's Last Lifeline: The Richmond & Danville	288
by Angus J. Johnston, II
North Carolina Railroads during the Civil War	298
by Charles L. Price
Were the Southern Railroads Destroyed by War?	310
by James F. Doster
The Continuing War	321
by James I. Robertson, Jr.
Notes and Queries	326
edited by Boyd B. Stutler
Book Reviews	333
Book Notes	342