

CONTENTS

Editorial	4
SELECTED CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE 6th ISU SYMPOSIUM, LONDON, MARCH 15-18, 1994
Leszek Kolakowski — Introductory Remarks	8
John Dunn — Political and Economical Obstacles to Rapid Collective Learning	11
Brian Locke — Technology Beyond the Limits: What Can We Do? What Now?	19
Albert A. Anderson — Universal Justice and Ecological Crisis	27
Ryszard Ochwat — Prevention of Ecological Dangers as discussed in the Polish Senate	39
*
Aubrey Rose — Biblical Roots of Ecology and Modern Applications	45
John G. McGraw — The Proto-Ecophilosophy of Friedrich Nietzsche	51
*
HRH Crown Prince Hassan — Philosophy and the Social Sciences Confronting Ecological Disaster	67
John F. Quinn — Anthropocentric Modernism and the Search for a Universal Environmental Philosophy	71
Errol E. Harris — World Government and Universalism	87
Jan Jasion — The Macrocosm and the Microcosm of Universalism	97
*
A Note on the London Symposium	101
PROPOSALS FOR A GENERAL DISCUSSION
Michael H. Mitias — Universalism and the Meaning of History: Significance of the Question of Meaning	103
PROFILES
Sir Sigmund Sternberg (J. Jasion)	115
UNIVERSALISM IN PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS
Universities — “Universitas” — Universalism	121
Ettore Gelpi — A New Concept of Development of, by and for the Community in a Changing Democracy?	125
Janusz Kuczyński — Universalism and Lifelong Education as Ways of Evolving Democracies and Communities into a Universal Society and Universal Civilization	133
*
An Appeal for Improving the Situation of the World	137
ISU NEWS BULLETIN
The Second World Congress of Universalism (Second Circular)	141
Leszek Kolakowski — an Honorary Citizen of the City of Radom	145
—————
On Contributors	148
ANNOUNCEMENTS
The Centenary of the Lvov-Warsaw Philosophical School: Call for Papers	149
Insights into Maldevelopment	151
Foundations of Science	152