

PHILOSOPHY IN AN AGE OF CRISIS:
CHALLENGES AND PROSPECTS

PART IV

Editorial	5
-----------------	---

PAST PHILOSOPHY FOR THE PRESENT AND FUTURE

Kevin M. Brien — Toward a Critical Synthesis of the Aristotelian and Confucian Doctrines of the Mean	9
T. Brian Mooney, Damini Roy — Politeness and Pietas as Annexed to the Virtue of Justice	37
Robert Elliott Allinson — The Problem of the External World in René Descartes, Edmund Husserl, Immanuel Kant and the Evil Genius: A Perennial Problem for Philosophers?	57
Dávid Kollár, József Kollár — The Art of Shipwrecking: The Information Society and the Rise of Exaptive Resilience	67
Mitchell Atkinson III — Parsimony and Ontological Control: Quine and Wittgenstein on the Size of the World	85
Andrey I. Matsyna — “Natural Work” as Self-capability: Remaining Human in the Era of Turmoil. In Memory of Grigory Savvich Skovoroda	105

PHILOSOPHY AND CURRENT HUMAN PROBLEMS

Omer Moussaly — The Lessons of Gramsci’s Philosophy of Praxis	119
Shuang Zhang — Critique of Capital in the Era of Globalization	139
Stanisław Czerniak — Around Richard Münch’s Academic Capitalism Theory .	153
Necip Fikri Alican — Rawls’s Justification Model for Ethics: What Exactly Justifies the Model?	171
Henryk Krawczyk, Andrew Targowski — A Universal Theory of Wisdom. A Mind-oriented Approach	191
Jonathan O. Chimakonam — Are Digital Technologies Transforming Humanity and Making Politics Impossible?	209