

Environmental Philosophy

Spring 2016

Volume 13, Issue 1

CONTENTS

ARTICLES

- Taking Nature Seriously in the Anthropocene Donald S. Maier 1
- The Reversibility of Landscapes Kenneth Liberman 35
- Acknowledging the Place of Unrest: Tensions between Radical Reflection and the Flesh Robert Booth 57
- On Becoming Human in Lingít Aaní: Encountering Levinas through Indigenous Inspirations Sol Neely 83
- Telling Stories in the Company of Buffalo:
Wisdom, Fluency, and Rough Knowledge James Hatley 105
- Some Questions for Ecological Aesthetics Arnold Berleant 123

BOOK REVIEWS

- That Dream Shall Have a Name:
Native Americans Rewriting America—*
by David L. Moore Lisa Brooks 137
- Cloud of the Impossible: Negative Theology and Planetary Entanglement—*
by Catherine Keller Wendy Farley 140
- Braiding Sweetgrass: Indigenous Wisdom, Scientific Knowledge and the Teachings of Plants—*
by Robin Wall Kimmerer James Hatley 143
- Naturalizing Heidegger: His Confrontation with Nietzsche,
His Contributions to Environmental Philosophy—*
by David E. Storey Ruth Irwin 146
- The National Park to Come—*
by Margret Grebowicz Jason M. Wirth 150