

Environmental Philosophy

Fall 2004
Volume 1, Number 2

CONTENTS

EDITORIAL PREFACE	Ingrid Leman Stefanovic, Kenneth Maly	4
FEATURES
“Here I Stand”: An Interview with Arne Naess	Christian Diehm	6
Deep Ecology and Phenomenology	Christian Diehm	20
Standing and Stooping to Tiny Flowers: An Ecofemnomological Response to Arne Naess	Carol Bigwood	28
Deep Ecology, the Reversibility of the Flesh of the World, and the Poetic Word: A Response to Arne Naess	Glen A. Mazis	46
UNDERGRADUATE PERSPECTIVES
Courtyards – A Phenomenological Study	Robin Bellows	62
DISCUSSION PAPERS
Responding to Heaven and Earth: Daoism, Heidegger and Ecology	Eric Sean Nelson	65
The Narrow Road to the Deep North: Earth and World in Poetry and Prose	Dennis Skocz	75
BOOKS
Glen A. Mazis: Earthbodies: Rediscovering Our Planetary Senses	Bruce Wilshire	84
REPORT ON BOOKS		87