
Environmental Philosophy

Fall 2009
Volume 6, no. 2

Contents

Features

- Stefan Skrimshire, "Points of No Return: Climate Change and the Ethics of Uncertainty" 1
- William Goodwin, "How Does the Theologizing of Physics Contribute to Global Warming?" 21
- Meera Baindur, "Nature as Non-Terrestrial: Sacred Natural Landscapes and Place in Indian Vedic and Purāṇic Thought" 43
- Sharon R. Harvey, "Environmental Problem-Solving and Heidegger's Phenomenology: Addressing our Technical Relation to Nature" 59
- Michael Mikulak, "The Silence That Can Speak: Nature, Ethics, and Interspecies Cosmopolitics" 73

Book Reviews

- Thomas Heyd. Encountering Nature: Toward an Environmental Culture
Reviewed by Eric Sean Nelson 93

David Michael Kleinberg-Levin. Before the Voice of Reason: Echoes of Responsibility in Merleau-Ponty's Ecology and Levinas's Ethics. Reviewed by J. Aaron Simmons	96
John O'Neill, Alan Holland, and Andrew Light. Environmental Values. Reviewed by Keith Peterson	99
Ariel Salleh, editor. Eco-Sufficiency and Global Values: Women Write Political Ecology. Reviewed by Meg Mott	103
Steven Vanderheiden, editor. Political Theory and Global Climate Change. Reviewed by Shane Ralston	105