

Environmental Philosophy

Fall 2022

Volume 19, Issue 2

SPECIAL ISSUE:

A Planetary Imagination: Responses to Chakrabarty's Socio-Natural Historiography

Jeremy Bendik-Keymer, Guest Editor

CONTENTS

ARTICLES

- Editorial Introduction Jeremy Bendik-Keymer 129
- Holographic Ethics for Intergenerational Justice:
Planetary Politics through the Prism Julia D. Gibson 141
- Fables for the Anthropocene: Illuminating Other Stories for Being Human in an Age of Planetary Turmoil Danielle Celermajer and Christine J. Winter 163
- We Have Always Been Planetary Thomas Nail 191
- Institutional Reflexivity when Facing the Planetary:
An Interview *Neil Brenner and Elizabeth Chatterjee,
with Jeremy Bendik-Keymer* 203
- The Earth System, Justice, and Governance in a Planetary Age: Engaging a Social Turn Stefan Pedersen, Dimitris Stevis, and Agni Kalfagianni 221
- The Planetary Sublime (Part II of The Problem of an Unloving World) Jeremy Bendik-Keymer 241
- Wonder and Politics in the Anthropocene:
Beyond Curiosity and Reverence Urszula Lisowska 269
- Splitting the Planet? A Conversation across Differences Dipesh Chakrabarty 289

BOOK REVIEWS

- Contesting Extinctions: Decolonial and Regenerative Futures*
by Suzanne M. McCullagh, Luis I. Prádanos, Ilaria Tabusso Marcyan, and Catherine Wagner, eds. Pedro Brea 305
- Environment and Belief Systems*
by G. N. Devy and Geoffrey V. Davis, eds. Joy Das 310
- Blue Architecture: Water, Design, and Environmental Futures*
by Brook Muller Kevin Siefert 315
- Decolonial Ecology: Thinking from the Caribbean World*
by Malcom Ferdinand Rachel Spratt 319