

Table of Contents

Editor's Introduction	ii
Is Dr. House Virtuous?: Using House to Teach the Moral and Intellectual Virtues -Heather Battaly and Amy Coplan	1
Teaching Philosophy Through Film Aristotle's Theory of Friendship and The Third Man -Thomas E. Wartenberg	19
The Limits of Instruction -David LaRocca	35
Transposing Transgression: Teaching Kierkegaard's Fear and Trembling through Danish Film -George Connell	51
Using Gattaca to Teach Genetic Discrimination -Peter Murphy	65
The Conversation , Film, and Philosophy -Mark Huston	77
Film as a Non-Philosophical Resource for Philosophy Instruction -William Pamerleau	87
Now Showing: Pedagogy and Philosophy at the Movies -Jessica Gosnell	99
Resuscitating the Subversive in Unlikely Couples -Sondra Bacharach	113
Monsters and the Moving Image: Replies to Laetz and Yanal -Noël Carroll	125
Wings of Desire: Reflections on the Tedium of Immortality -Aaron Smuts	137
Teaching Philosophy Through Film: Signs and the Problem of Evil -Dan Shaw	151