

contents

Introduction

Paul Majkut page 4

Nostalgia for a Digital Object: Regrets on the Quickening of Quick Time

Vivian Sobchack page 9

The Mother of all Phenomenological Websites: Development of <www.phenomenologycenter.org>

By Lester Embree page 23

Closeness that Grows Towards the User: Phenomenological Approach to CyberArts

Janez Strehovec page 27

Virtual Information: A Phenomenology of Ambivalence

Chris Nagel page 33

Absolute Internet: A Gallery of Images

Alison Leigh Brownpage 39

The Web Site: A Social Event

Lars Lundsten page 45

On Modes of Consciousness(es) and Electronic Culture

Melentie Pandilovski page 53

Empathy's Imposter: Interactivity versus Intersubjectivity

Paul Majkut page 59

The Presence of the Absence: The Phenomenology of Teaching Online

Alex Zukas page 67

Children's Images of Cyberspace

Ingrid Ivanoff-Levine and Myron Orleans page 71

Community and Media: A Weakness in Phenomenology?

Alberto Carrillo Canánpage 77

Race Cars, Hallways, and Monsters: Computer Games and the Phenomenology of Perception

Jonathan Weidenbaum page 83

Merleau Ponty and the New Media: Thoughts on Digital Film

Jonathan Ward page 89