

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Opening Remarks: What Does It Mean to Read Heidegger for the Sake of Peace and Justice? Bret W. Davis (Loyola University Maryland)	1
Opening Remarks: Situating Ourselves: The Baltimore Uprising of 2015 How to Read Heidegger for the Sake of Peace and Justice Catriona Hanley (Loyola University Maryland)	5
Polemos, Dike, and Politics in Heidegger: The Lectures of 1924 and 1934 Dennis E. Skocz (Duquesne University)	10
Dwelling at the Limits: A Review of Thinking the Poetic Measure of Justice Jennifer O. Gammage (DePaul University)	23
Heidegger: On Thinking Justice Charles Bambach (University of Texas at Dallas)	36
Thinking as Remedy to the Violence of Technology Margot Wielgus (University of Kentucky)	41
The Language of Ethics: Patient Persuasion in Heidegger’s Triadic Conversation Kate Davies (Emory University)	50
Heidegger’s Justice: Ontology, Temporality, and the Esteeming of Beings Christopher Merwin (Emory University)	52
Heidegger’s Black Notebooks and the Question of Anti-Semitism Jesús Adrián Escudero (University of Phoenix)	65
Heidegger’s ‘Nazism’ as Veiled Nietzschean and Heideggerianism: Evidence from the Black Notebooks Joshua Rayman (University of South Florida)	99
Sic et Non or Nazi Heidegger Between Jesus Adrián Escudero’s Anti-Semite/Anti-Jew and Joshua Rayman’s ‘Heideggerianism’ Babette Babich (Fordham University, NYC)	112
The Politics of Spirit and the Self-Destruction of the State to Come: Heidegger’s Rectorate in the Black Notebooks Andrew Mitchell (Emory University)	124
Response to Andrew Mitchell “The Politics of Spirit and the Self-Destruction of the State to Come: Heidegger’s Rectorate in the Black Notebooks ” Daniela Vallega-Neu (University of Oregon)	139
Dasein between Performance and Method Christiaan Reynolds (Villanova University)	144
The Recognitive Foundations of Agency: On Heidegger, Finitude, and the Institutions of Social Life Karen Robertson (Trent University)	158

The Intensity of Lived-Experience in Basic Problems of Phenomenology .....	177
Scott M. Campbell (Nazareth College)
Heidegger and the Ubiquity and Invisibility of Pornography in the Internet Age.....	191
Natalie Nenadic (University of Kentucky)
Heidegger’s Motherless Age.....	215
Dana S. Belu (Cal-State University at Dominguez Hills)
The Question of Ability: Heidegger, Ableism, and Philosophy of Disability .....	227
Joel Michael Reynolds (Emory University)
Illness as Privation, Healing as Meditation.....	241
Will Britt (Loyola Marymount University)
Access, Bodies and Abilities: Heidegger and Disability .....	259
Dr. Julie Kuhlken (Pedernales Cellars)
Heidegger’s Way of Being: Reaffirming and Restating the Core Matter .....	264
Richard Capobianco (Stonehill College)
A Grateful Response to Richard Capobianco’s Latest Book,.....	281
Heidegger’s Way of Being Walter Brogan (Villanova University)
Commentary on Tom Sheehan’s “What, after all, was Heidegger about?”.....	288
Lawrence J. Hatab (Old Dominion University)
Sheehan, Capobianco, and die Sache selbst .....	294
Richard Polt (Xavier University)
Heidegger and Nishida on the Nothing.....	303
John W.M. Krummel (Hobart and William Smith Colleges)
The Genuine Possibility of Being-with: Watsuji,.....	317
Heidegger, and the Primacy of Betweenness Carolyn Culbertson (Florida Gulf Coast University)
Silent Words.....	335
Krzysztof Ziarek (University at Buffalo)
At the Crossroads of the Cave: Plato and Heidegger on History and Nihilism.....	345
Gregory Fried (Suffolk University)
Farewell and Ereignis : Beyond Hard Power and Soft Power.....	358
Fred Dallmayr (University of Notre Dame)
Gregory Fried’s “At the Crossroad of the Cave” and.....	375
Fred Dallmayr’s “Farewell and Ereignis ” Dan Dahlstrom (Boston University)	