

Journal of Catholic Social Thought

Volume 10 – Number 1

Table of Contents

Introduction

- Catholic Social Teaching and Human Rights 1
Barbara Wall, Villanova University
- Pacem in Terris* and Human Rights 5
David Hollenbach, S.J., Boston College

Human Rights in Africa

- International Human Rights and Sub-Saharan Africa: No Longer an Oxymoron? 17
John F. Murphy, Villanova University School of Law
- One Nation from Every Tribe, Tongue and People:*
The Church and Strategic Peacebuilding in South Sudan 47
John Ashworth, Sudan, South Sudan Advisor and Maura Ryan,
University of Notre Dame
- The Influence of Catholic Social Doctrine
on Human Rights 69
Mary Ann Glendon, Harvard University
- Human Rights and Globalization: The Responsibility of States and of Private Actors 85
Joseph Stiglitz, Columbia University
- Women and Human Rights in South Sudan 91
Jane Kani Edward, Fordham University

Applications of Catholic Social Teaching

- Workers' Rights and Socially Responsible Investment in the Catholic Tradition: A Case Study 117
Gerald J. Beyer, Saint. Joseph's University (PA)
- Using Principles of Catholic Social Thought to Evaluate Business Activities 155
Gerald F. Cavanagh, S.J., Jeanne M. David and Simon J. Hendry, S.J., University of Detroit Mercy
- Catholic Social Teaching, Humanitarian Intervention, and the Three Traditions 179
Robert Christian, Catholic University of America
- What the Writings of Fr. Ryan and Catholic Social Thought
Say Concerning Modern Capitalism 203
William Van Lear, Christopher Kirchgessner, O.S.B., and John Plecnik, Belmont Abbey College