

CONTENTS

Boccaccio at 700: Tales and Afterlives. An Introduction Olivia Holmes and Dana E. Stewart	1
Boccaccio's Neapolitan Letter and Multilingualism in Angevin Naples Charmaine Lee	7
The Marquis of Saluzzo, or the Griselda Story Before It Was Hijacked: Calculating Matrimonial Odds in Decameron 10.10 Teodolinda Barolini	23
Scienze della cittade . Rhetoric and Politics in the Sixth Day of the Decameron Ronald Martinez	57
Authorial Strategies and Manuscript Tradition: Boccaccio and the Decameron's Early Diffusion Marco Corsi	87
Illuminating Boccaccio: Visual Translation in Early Fifteenth-Century France Anne D. Hedeman	111
Boccaccio, Ariosto, and the European Novel Roberto Bigazzi	155
The Apocryphal Boccaccio Victoria Kirkham	169
Marriage or Politics? Dramatizing Griselda Janet Levarie Smarr	221
"Alcuna paroletta piú liberale": Contemporary Women Authors Address the Decameron's Obscenity F. Regina Psaki	241
Boccaccio and the Seventh Art: The Decameronian Films of Fellini, De Laurentiis, Pasolini, Woody Allen Millicent Marcus	267