

PHILOSOPHY TODAY

■ Table of Contents

Editors' Introduction	3
Linda Martín Alcoff and Walter Brogan
Plenary Papers
The Matrix , or, Malebranche in Hollywood	11
Slavoj Žižek
Fate and Fortune: Derrida on Facing the Future	27
Is There a Latin American Philosophy?
Philosophy and the Colonial Difference	36
Walter Dignolo
Ethnic Labels and Philosophy: The Case of Latin-American Philosophy	42
Jorge J. E. Gracia
Is There Latin American Philosophy?	50
Eduardo Mendieta
Philosophy and the Feminine
Of Ghosts, Commodities, and Women: Irigaray and Derrida	62
Gertrude Postl
Sexual Difference, Phenomenology, and Alterity	68
Linda Fisher
Language and Subject in Heidegger and Kristeva	76
Jennifer Anna Gosetti
Re-Readings of Husserl
The Relevance of Nonsymbolic Cognition to Husserl's Fifth Meditation	88
Albert A. Johnstone
Re-Thinking Husserl's Fifth Meditation	99
Maxine Sheets-Johnstone

Dialectics of the Absolute:
The Systematics of the Phenomenological System in Husserl's Last Period	107
Sebastian Luft
Cuts and Bonds: Husserl's Systematic Investigation of Representation	115
John Brough
At the Limits of Phenomenology
Naturalizing Phenomenology	124
Ted Toadvine
Phenomenology, Psychoanalysis, and the Hermeneutics of Suspicion	132
Jeremi Roth
Linking Philosophers Together
On the Presence of Bergson in Deleuze's Nietzsche	140
Giovanna Borradori
From Time to the Flesh: Levinas and Merleau-Ponty	146
Michael Sanders
Autonomy, Negativity, and Illusory Transgression:
Menke's Deconstruction of Adorno's Aesthetics.	154
Lambert Zuidervaart
Wretched Desire: Bataille and Kristeva on Abjection	169
Jason M. Wirth
Philosophy, Community Politics
"An Unsuitable Job for a Philosopher":
Graduate Education and the Limits of the Profession	177
Ellen Feder
Lenin, Nancy, and the Politics of Total War.	186
John Lysaker
Voices of Chiapas: The Zapatistas, Bakhtin, and Human Rights	196
Fred Evans
Operative Levity in Inoperative Communities	211
Charles E. Scott	