

Contents

Introduction	vii
I. Origin, Insight, and Explication
1. Presence and Absence in Husserl's Phenomenology of Time-Consciousness JOHN B. BROUGH	3
2. The Role of Life-world in Husserl's Critique of Idealizations DIETER LOHMAR	17
3. The Genesis of Being and Time : The Primal Leap THEODORE KISIEL	29
4. Should a Phenomenologist Be Clever? DOMINIQUE JANICAUD	51
II. The Boundaries of the Individual and the State
5. Homeworld/Alienworld: Toward A Generative Phenomenology of Intersubjectivity ANTHONY J. STEINBOCK	65
6. Constituting the Transcendent Community: Some Phenomenological Implications of Husserl's Social Ontology H. PETER STEEVES	83
7. Circulation Unbound: Hegel, Heidegger, and the State DAVID KOLB	101
8. Some Particular Limitations of Postconventional Universality: Hegel and Habermas SHAUN GALLAGHER	115

9.	“We,” Representation, and War-Resistance: Some Para-Husserlian Considerations JAMES G. HART	127
III. Gadamer’s Experience of Truth in Tradition
10.	Gadamer’s Alleged Conservatism HOLLY L. WILSON	145
11.	The Imaging of Truth in Philosophical Hermeneutics JAMES RISSER	159
12.	Das Einleuchtende : The Enlightening Aspect of the Subject Matter LAWRENCE K. SCHMIDT	175
IV. The Nature of Justice and Community
13.	The Sincerity of Apology: Levinas’s Resistance to the Judgment of History JAMES HATLEY	195
14.	Liotard and the Question of Community STEVEN HENDLEY	207
15.	Derrida’s Political Physics: From the Law of Force in the Book of Nature to the Force of Law in the General Text JOHN PROTEVI	221
16.	Ghost-Stories: Critical Remembrance and Justice in Derrida and Habermas MAX PENSKY	237
17.	Reification and the Nonidentical: On the Problem of Nature in Lukács and Adorno STEVEN VOGEL	253
18.	Nature: A Theme for Finite Philosophical Thinking? UTE GUZZONI	269
	Index	289