

TEACHING ETHICS

Volume 21, Number 1, Spring 2021

Table of Contents

Special Symposium on Diversity

Not “Minority” but “Minoritized” Erik Wingrove-Haugland and Jillian McLeod	1
Killing Races and Witches Stephen Scales	13
Diversifying . . . Aristotle? Engaging Diverse Students with New Approaches to the Nicomachean Ethics Heather Stewart	27
Nietzsche and Three Africana Philosophers on Diversifying Ethics Across the Curriculum Charles Verharen	45

Articles

Removing Disability in Children: An Essay on Barnes’s The Minority Body Samantha L. Fritz	69
Playing the Poverty Simulation Game: A Course in Analysis and Revision Beth Dixon, Allie Boudreau, Austin Burke, Aaryn Clark, Sarah-Margaret Cowart, Sarah Martin, Matthew Spanburgh	77
Moral Friendship as Perfectionist Resistance Jon Borowicz	93
Modifying Clinical Ethics Cases for Pedagogy: The Case of “Enzokuhle” Michael J. Murphy	103

Exploring and Developing a Comprehensive Teaching
Model for Graduate Ethics Education Across Disciplines:
An Instrumental Case Study

Norman St. Clair, Deborah Poole 113

Book Reviews

Ethics, Emotion, Education And Empowerment—
by Lisa Kretz

Martin J. Lecker 139