

TAJS 27.1–4 (2011)

CONTENTS

Elizabeth C. Hirschman and Morris B. Holbrook
Consuming the Vampire: Sex, Death, and Liminality, 1

Axel Hübler and Jens Schumacher
Nonverbal Behavior As Index of Social Class, 47

Frank J. Macke
A Semiotic Phenomenology of “Contact”: The Phatic Function of Body and Flesh in Jakobson’s Model of Communication, 81

Michael E. Martinez and Dianna Townsend
Specific Language As Constituents of Intelligence, 95

Ephraim Nissan
The Dog Ate It: The Fate of Homework as a
Situational Archetype for a Pretext.
Social Context, Medium, and Formalism, 115

Robert Philen
Argument and Catastrophe, 163

Vincent Guagliardo
Father and Son in the Trinity: Metaphor or Analogy?, 175

Katherine Romack
“For This Is the Naked Truth”:
The Early Quakers and Going Naked As a Sign, 203

Essays on the Semiotic Contributions of Kenneth Pike

Eleanor Donnelly
Pike, Semiotics, and Anthropology, 233

Dinda L. Gorlée and Myrdene Anderson
Kenneth L. Pike’s Semiotic Work:
Arousing, Disputing, and Persuading Language-and-Culture, 243

Terry J. Prewitt
Meaning in the Science of Signs, 257

Stéphanie Walsh Matthews
Translation: A Tagtile Experience, 267

Book Reviews

Randall Bytwerk
Richard A. Etlin (ed.) — Art, Culture, and Media Under the Third Reich, 279

Michael Fotiadis
Anton G. Jansen — A Study of the Remains of Mycenaean Roads and Stations of Bronze Age Greece, 281

Grzegorz A. Kleparski and Marta Pikor-Niedziałek
Christine Christie —
Gender and Language: Towards a Feminist Pragmatics, 284

Marta Pikor-Niedziałek
Sara Mills — Gender and Politeness, 287

Steven L. Reagles
Richard Cavell — McLuhan in Space: A Cultural Geography, 290

Tony Williams
Larry Buchanan — It Came From Hunger!
Tales of a Cinema Schlockmeister, 293

About the Authors*, 295