
Contents

An interview with Alasdair MacIntyre, 67

They're trying to get rid of me, 73

Christopher Williams

The inaugural lecture of the new Professor of Philosophy at the University of Bristol

Thinking about thoughts, 82

Grant Gillett

We all think; but what should we think about our thoughts?

Meditation, mysticism and philosophy, 86

Andrew Belsey

The claims of mysticism are inflated and mistaken

The Second Book of Job, 92

Geoffrey Scarre

First translation into English of a papyrus lately discovered in a cave at Qumran

What Hylas should have said to Philonous, 100

Andrew Pyle

A critical discussion of one of Berkeley's key arguments

Teaching philosophy at Bayero University, Kano, Nigeria, 106

Akilu Sani Indabawa

Puzzles and posers, 113

Book reviews, 114

Editor's booknotes and books received, 117

Letters, 119

Philosophy news, 120

Erratum, 120