

THE HARVARD REVIEW OF PHILOSOPHY

Table of Contents

Volume XXVI | 2019

Philosophy and Race

Editor's Introduction Richard P. Wang	v
Introduction: Thinking about Race, Responding to Racial Inequality Tommie Shelby	1
An Interview with Elizabeth Anderson on Integration and Inequality Tadhg Larabee and Nicholas Brown	7
The Influence of Dewey on Race Theory Paul C. Taylor	23
Reflections on Brown vs. Board of Education and School Integration Today Lawrence Blum	37
The Restorative Proportionality Theory: A New Approach to Affirmative Action Frank J. Costa, Jr.	59
Intersection Theory as Progressive: Philosophy of Race, Feminism, and Antisemitism Naomi Zack	83
Four Ways of Thinking about Race Michael O. Hardimon	103
Race as a Social Construction: Some Difficulties J. L. A. Garcia	115
A Beginner's Guide to the New Population Genomics of Homo sapiens : Origins, Race, and Medicine Rasmus Grønfeldt Winther	135