

THE HARVARD REVIEW OF PHILOSOPHY

Martha Nussbaum discusses the moral philosophy of Roger Williams (1603-1683).

Page 4

Sukjae Lee explores the philosophy of Nicolas Malebranche (1638-1715).

Page 72

VOLUME XV | FALL 2007

HISTORY OF PHILOSOPHY

"Equal Respect for Conscience":
Roger Williams on the Moral Basis of Civil Peace
By Martha C. Nussbaum 4

PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE

Laws and Metalaws of Nature
By Marc Lange 21

CONTINENTAL PHILOSOPHY

Trophe Ethics:
Derrida's Homeopathic Purity
By Kelly Oliver 37

PHILOSOPHY OF MIND

Is the Pain in Jane Felt Mainly in Her Brain?
By Paul Skokowski 58

HISTORY OF PHILOSOPHY

Passive Natures and No Representations:
Malebranche's Two "Local"
Arguments for Occasionalism
By Sukjae Lee 72

INTERVIEW

The Primacy of the Moral
An Interview with Thomas M. Scanlon 92

Credits: The print above is based on Franklin Simmons's statue of Roger Williams. Both the print and the portrait of Nicolas Malebranche are provided courtesy of WikiMedia Commons. The photograph of Thomas M. Scanlon on page 92 is the author's own.