

THE HARVARD REVIEW OF PHILOSOPHY

VOLUME IV • ISSUE 1 • SPRING 1994

Seeker of Truth

W.V. Quine reflects on paradoxes, positivism and the place of science.

47

Thinking about Law

Alan Dershowitz shares his views on free speech, judges and the death penalty.

58

Cover Photo: Renoir, Spring Bouquet, Courtesy of the Fogg Art Museum, Harvard University Art Museums. Bequest of Grenville L. Winthrop. All other photos by Gil Lahav.

PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE

What is the Problem of Measurement? 4
By Simon Saunders

POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY

The Contest of Extremes: An Exploration of the Foundations and the Peak of Nietzsche's Political Philosophy 23
By Peter Berkowitz

INTERVIEWS

W.V. Quine: Perspectives on Logic, Science and Philosophy 47
By Bradley Edmister and Michael O'Shea

Alan Dershowitz: On the Philosophy of Law 58
By Gil Lahav

EPISTEMOLOGY

Picturing God: Wittgenstein on Religion, Science and Superstition 64
By Jonathan Weinberg

BOOK REVIEWS

What's in a Hole? 76
By Steven A. Gross

Tools of the Trade: Thought Experiments Examined 81
By Tamar Gendler

A Method for Logic: New Edition of an Old Standard 86
By Gil Lahav