

RADICAL PHILOSOPHY REVIEW

Volume 1

Number 1

1998

Radicalism at the Century's End and the Dawn of the New Millennium

Introduction Lewis R. Gordon	iii
Dialogue on Radicalism and the Left: Radicalism Today Angela Y. Davis, Joy Ann James, and Richard Curtis	1
ARTICLES: FORUM ON RADICALISM AND THE LEFT
Victims No More Marilyn Nissim-Sabat	17
Radicalism as the Lucid Awareness of Radicalized Evil: A Second Look at Manichæism William L. McBride	35
Radicalism at the Present Moment: A Report on the U.S. Left Paul Buhle	40
What Does Critical Theory Have to Do with It?: In Retrospect and Prospect Martin J. Beck Matušík	46
Bringing Context Back In: Reconstituting a Left Politics Harry R. Targ	54

FORUM ON RADICALISM AND INDIGENOUS STRUGGLES
The Zapatista National Liberation Army Subcommandante Insurgente Marcos and Kerry Appel	59
Affirming Life, Inscribing the Intifada : When the Subalterns Scream Nada Elia	70
REVIEW ESSAYS
Enrique Dussel and Modernity's "Underside" William L. McBride	76
Joy James, a Refreshingly New Voice of Resistance Larvester Gaither	81
A Complex Portrait of a Complex Radical: Roger Guenveur Smith's A Huey P. Newton Story Ralph Johnson	84
CONTRIBUTORS	87