

Table of Contents

HEALTH, WELL-BEING, AND SOCIETY

Volume 35

Table of Contents

Editors' Introduction Gregory Hoskins, Zachary Hoskins, and Joan Woolfrey	1
PART I: KEYNOTE ADDRESSES
Human Rights and Public Health Ethics S. Matthew Liao	9
Is Universalism the Cause of Feminist Complicity in Imperialism? Serene Khader	21
PART II: HEALTH, WELL-BEING, AND SOCIETY
Should Undocumented Immigrants Have Access to Public Benefits? Chong Choe-Smith	41
Communication Breakdown: Probing the Limits of Narrative Medicine and its Discontents David J. Leichter	59
Gaslighting by Crowd Karen C. Adkins	75
Defining Rape: Gender Equality, Force, and Consent Lisa H. Schwartzman	89
Transmuted Goods and the Legacy of the Atrocity Paradigm Jill Hernandez	103
Staying Well in Heraclitus's River Matthew R. Silliman	115
Groundwork for the Moral Evaluation of Speech Acts Emily Mathias	129

Skepticism and Pluralism on Ethics Expertise
Ben Almassi.....143

PART III: REPLIES

Between Carceral Feminism and Transformative Justice:
A Critical Response to “Anti-Carceral Feminism and Sexual Assault—A Defense” by Chloë Taylor
Anna Terwiel.....161

PART IV: NASSP BOOK AWARD

COLLEEN MURPHY, THE CONCEPTUAL FOUNDATIONS OF TRANSITIONAL JUSTICE

Introduction: The 2017 NASSP Award Winner,
Colleen Murphy, The Conceptual Foundations of Transitional Justice
Emily McGill.....169

We Need More Transitional Justice
Karen Adkins173

Equality, Democracy, and Transitional Justice
Seth Mayer.....177

Transitional Justice, Trade-Offs, and the Troubles
James Boettcher.....181

Transitional Justice, the United States, Equality, and Trade-Offs:
A Response to Adkins, Mayer, and Boettcher
Colleen Murphy.....187

Notes on Contributors.....193