

Table of Contents

POLARIZATION, RECONCILIATION, AND COMMUNITY

Volume 39

Introduction Karen Adkins and Geoffrey Karabin	1
PART I: KEYNOTE ADDRESS
Hostile Epistemology C. Thi Nguyen	9
PART II: POLARIZATION, RECONCILIATION, COMMUNITY
Beauvoir, Irigaray, and #MeToo: The Language of Subjectivity and Revolution Mary Townsend	35
Caring Affinity Networks: Integrating Relational Epistemologies into Mental Health Justice Shaun Respass	51
Democratic Empathy and Affective Polarization Katharina Anna Sodoma and Daniel Sharp	71
Misinformation and Epistemic Harm Brandon Carey	89
Reproductive Justice as Reparative Justice Desiree Valentine	101
Situating Cancel Culture: On Harm Reduction, Elite Capture, and Epistemic Hurdles Lara Millman	119
Our Problem Isn't Polarization—It's Sectarianism: A Kingian Diagnosis and Response Tony White	139

Demanding Apology, Demanding Forgiveness: American Expectations of Atonement in Anti-Black Violence Johanna C. Luttrell	165
Black Trust and White Allies: Insights from Slave Narratives Kevin M. Graham, Anaja Arthur, Ali Griswold, Beau Kearns, Quinlyn Klade, Maddox Larson, and Suraya Wayne	183
PART III: THE 2022 NASSP BOOK AWARD
Summary of Getting Our Act Together : A Theory of Collective Moral Obligations Shannon Fyfe	199
In Hopes of “Getting Our Act Together” Shannon Fyfe	203
Individualism and Morality William McBride	207
Collective Moral Obligations: A Need for Moral Theory Randall C. Morris	211
Commentary for NASSP Award Symposium: Response to Commentators Anne Schwenkenbecher	215
Contributors to Volume 39.....	227