

From the Editorial Team

This issue of Social Theory and Practice marks the end of an era: Margaret Dancy retired from her duties as Managing Editor and as Publication Manager in December 2016. She went far beyond her official duties, and singlehandedly ran the Journal from 1998 until her retirement. She was tireless in her attention to detail when it came to copyediting, typesetting, and the numerous other administrative aspects of producing a journal. The Florida State University philosophy department and the new editorial team would like to thank Margaret for her crucial role in establishing and maintaining the Journal's high editorial and production standards over her many years of service.