

Teaching Philosophy

VOLUME ONE

Fall 1975

NUMBER 2

The Meno in Secondary Schools

| | | |
|----------------------------|---|-----|
| Robert S. Brumbaugh | 1. Plato's Meno as Form and as Content of Secondary School Philosophy..... | 107 |
| Malcolm Brown | 2. Comments on Brumbaugh's Meno for Secondary Schools..... | 115 |
| Robert Neville | 3. Teaching the Meno and the Reformation of Character..... | 119 |
| Hugo W. Thompson | 4. The Meno in Secondary Schools: Comments..... | 121 |

| | | |
|--------------------------|--|-----|
| Godfrey Vesey | Teaching Philosophy in Britain's Open University (II)..... | 125 |
| Joseph P. DeMarco | Philosophy and Black Studies..... | 135 |
| Michael Martin | Teaching Teaching Philosophy..... | 141 |
| Harry R. Klocker | Philosophy in a Cultural Context..... | 147 |
| Bruce Russell | Beetle Boxes: Demonstrating the Logic of P-predicates..... | 153 |
| Robert C. Solomon | Graduate Study in Continental Philosophy In American Universities..... | 159 |

Special Review Section of Open University Materials by D.C. Dennett, Lawrence Jost, Douglas Long, Margaret Wilson, Darrell Shepard, T. Binkley, William Lycan, Michael Loux, Alan Hausman, and Kenneth Ray175

Book Reviews by Thomas Robinson, John Lachs, Willem de Vries, Rollin Workman, Joseph De Marco, William McMahon, B. C. Postow, William Gerber, Berkley and Essie Eddins, Alex Michalos, John Bacon, and Edward Regis205

Publications Received

News and Notes

Correspondence