

American Association of Philosophy Teachers
Studies in Pedagogy

Volume 5:
From Research to Learning

Contents

From Research to Learning: Introduction.....	1
David W. Concepción
Rancière and Pedagogy: Knowledge, Learning, and the Problem of Distraction.....	7
Gwen Daugs
Drawing for Understanding, Insight, and Discovery.....	22
Juli K. Thorson
Scaffolding for Fine Philosophical Skills	34
Russell Marcus
Letting Students Choose: Investigating the Menu Approach to Graded Work.....	68
Andrew P. Mills
Beyond Information Recall: Sophisticated Multiple-Choice Questions in Philosophy.....	89
J. Robert Loftis
Developing Engineering Students' Moral Reasoning Skills Using Problem-Based Learning.....	123
Maralee Harrell
Cross-Year Peer Mentorship in Introductory Philosophy Classes: The Home Base Mentoring Program	144
Julie Walsh, Sara M. Fulmer, and Sarah Pociask

An Invitation to Scholarly Teaching:
Some Annotations on the Scholarship of Teaching and (Especially) Learning for Philosophers 169
Helen Meskhidze, Claire A. Lockard, and Stephen Bloch-Schulman

Notes on Contributors 200