

Business Ethics

THE MAGAZINE OF SOCIALLY RESPONSIBLE BUSINESS

JANUARY/FEBRUARY 1996

VOL. 10, NO. 1

INTERVIEW

47 Monsanto's Robert Shapiro

Think it's hard for you to be socially responsible? Imagine what it's like as CEO of a chemical company. Can this guy be for real?

OPINION

6 Letters

Not just for liberals; Prozac at $2 a pill? squeaky ethics; benchmarked principles.

10 Commentary: Elizabeth Parrott

What it's like to be a disabled worker.

12 Pre-Press: Dale Kurschner

Out with Ben & Jerry's, in with Monsanto: the future of ethical leadership.

13 Musings: Marjorie Kelly

"Maximizing shareholder return" is a hallowed phrase, but do we mean it?

70 Oxymoron: Mary Scott

Forget today's stereotypes. Good, honest business was practiced long before the '60s (thanks, Dad).
