

BALKAN JOURNAL OF PHILOSOPHY

Vol. 13, Issue 1, 2021

The issue is sponsored by the Bulgarian National Science Fund, competition “Bulgarian Scientific Periodicals – 2020”, project No: KII-06-HII2/11 from 02 Dec. 2020

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Special issue devoted to the topic of “The Uses of Narratives: From Practice to Epistemology and Back” / 3

Articles

Invited paper

On the Compatibility of Competing Narratives / 5

David Weberman

Self as One and Many Narratives / 11

Joseph Ulatowski

Conceptualizing the Self: The Role of Narratives / 21

Hari Narayanan V

Historical Narratives and Understanding: Potential Inferential Power / 33

Stefan Petkov

Legal Worlds and Legal Narratives / 45

Aaron J. Walayat

Reassessing Personality and Narratives in the Brain and Behavioral Health Sciences / 57

Paola Hernández-Chávez, Oscar Lozano-Carrillo

Narratives in Health Care: A Case for Psychoeducation Drawing on the Biopsychosocial Model / 67

Isabella Sarto-Jackson

Three Roles of Narratives in the Treatment of Chronic Pain / 77
Nina A. Atanasova

Feigned Narratives Do Not Always Satisfy Needs: The Case of Factitious Disorders / 83
Lilia Gurova

Discussion

Response to Plamen Makariev's Comments / 91
Slobodan Divjak

Book reviews

Connecting the Dots [A Review of Early Analytic Philosophy and the German Philosophical Tradition (BLOOMSBURY ACADEMIC, 2020) by Nikolay Milkov] / 103
Kamen Lozev

Variations on Process Metaphysics [Review of the volume Variations on Process Metaphysics (eds. Alexander Haitos and Helmut Maassen). Cambridge Scholars Publishing, 2020, ISBN 978-1-5275-4832-9 / 106
Vesselin Petrov