

BALKAN JOURNAL OF PHILOSOPHY

Vol. 4, Issue 2, 2012

CONTENTS

Articles

The competence view of intuitions - a short sketch / 147

Nenad Miscevic

Species ontology in light of the debate about the existence of laws in biology / 161

Zdenka Brzović

What is more puzzling, real essences or the world of undifferentiated stuff? / 169

Maja Malec

Timothy Williamson on thought experiments – an empirical worry / 179

Edi Pavlović

Normal and abnormal and the body-soul relationship in some ancient medical texts / 185

Mihaela Pop

Reviewing the Rawlsian concept of public reason / 197

Dorian Jano

The concept of 'humanism' from Existence to Being: Sartre vs. Heidegger / 205

Zeynep Zafer Esenyel

One civilisation or many? The concept of civilisation in discourse for and against Turkish EU accession / 215

Catherine MacMillan

The “Bulgarian Mohammedans” (Pomaks) in the East and Central Rhodopes: the problem of identity / 227
Bogdana Todorova

The conceptual reconsideration of ideology in the framework of political philosophy / 239
Daniel Şandru

Forthcoming special issues of Balkan Journal of Philosophy" / 246

Information for contributions