

CONCEPTUAL HISTORY: CHINA, ASIA, AND THE GLOBAL

Acknowledgements: This issue is supported by the funds of “Double First-Class” initiative (Shuangyiliu Project) for Interdisciplinary research in Xue-heng Institute for Advanced Studies, Nanjing University.

CONTENTS

Jiang SUN	1
Conceptual History and History Textbooks
Gongzhong LI	11
From Society to Shehui : The Early Configuration of a Basic Concept in Modern China
Dongmu LI	29
On the Term Guominxing (National Character): Its Current Status, Etymology and Related Issues in the History of Modern Chinese and Japanese Thought
Liwei CHEN	47
A Study of the Linguistic and Conceptual Development of Diguo zhubuyi (Imperialism)
Tianna XU	63
Liu Shipei’s Concept of Class
Longhu CAO	75
The Discussion of Ziben zhubuyi (capitalism) in China’s Debate on Socialism (1920-1921)
Hongjun LIU	87
Scholarly Study of Hong (Rainbow) in the Ming and Qing Dynasties
Jianhua WANG	101
The Latinxua Sin Wenx Movement in the Shaanxi-Gansu-Ningxia Border Region of China: Centred on Winter schools in Yan’an County

Haizhou WANG	121
The Political Phenomenology of Banbiantian (Half the Sky): Reconstruction of Women's Status and Role in New China
Guowei SHEN	137
Modern Reorganization and Language Contact of the Chinese Vocabulary System
Xi PENG	163
The Co-construction of Modern Sino-Japanese Knowledge Systems from Eastern Learning
Fengyang ZHANG	179
The Linguistic Approach in the Study of Modernity: Political Interpretation on the Methodology of Koselleck's Begriffsgeschichte	