

CIVIL WAR HISTORY

CONTENTS FOR DECEMBER 2002

Volume Forty-eight · Number Four

Contesting Secession: Parson Brownlow and the Rhetoric of Proslavery Unionism, 1860–1861
ROBERT TRACY MCKENZIE	294
Defending Emancipation: Abraham Lincoln and the Conkling Letter, 1863
ALLEN C. GUELZO	313
“A Profound National Devotion”: The Civil War Union Leagues and the Construction of a New National Patriotism
MELINDA LAWSON	338
Book Reviews	363
Endnotes	376
Index	378
Contents for Volume 48	389

The cover illustration is of William G. “Parson” Brownlow.
For a more complicated look at his unionism, see “Contesting Secession:
Parson Brownlow and the Rhetoric of Proslavery Unionism, 1860–1861,” by Robert Tracy McKenzie.