

CIVIL WAR HISTORY

CONTENTS FOR DECEMBER 2004

Volume Fifty · Number Four

Editor's Note: What Is the Civil War?	364
Announcement of the Hubbell Prize Winner	367
“ We Should Grow Too Fond of It: Why We Love the Civil War ” DREW GILPIN FAUST	368
“ Editorship, 1959–1961 ” JAMES I. ROBERTSON JR.	384
“ To Sum Up ” JOHN T. HUBBELL	388
“ Historians and the Extent of Slave Ownership in the Southern United States ” OTTO H. OLSEN	401
“ Antebellum Southern Exceptionalism: A New Look at an Old Question ” JAMES M. MCPHERSON	418
“ Was the Civil War a Total War? ” MARK E. NEELY JR.	434
Index to Volume 50	459

The cover illustration is “Maryland and Pennsylvania Farmers Visiting the Battle-field of Antietam.” Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, Oct. 19, 1862. For a discussion of why we love the Civil War, see the article by Drew Gilpin Faust.