

CONTENTS

Editors' Foreword	5
I. T. Frolov – On the Perspectives of Research into the Philosophical and Social Aspects of Science and Technology	7

*

Andrzej Walicki – The Rule of Law in the Russian Intellectual Tradition: Pre-Revolutionary Russia, the Soviet Union and Perestroika	19
Janusz Kuczyński – Universalism: A New Way of Thinking	27

PRECONDITIONS AND PARADIGMS OF NEW THINKING

Marek Fritzhand – Marxism and Social Sciences at a New Stage	53
K. M. Dolgov – The Politician and the Philosopher (Some Lessons from Machiavelli)	59
N. I. Lapin – Acceleration and Restructuring: Dialectics and Problems	67
J. V. Minkevicius – The Human Factor in the Revolution and Perestroika	85

REVOLUTION AS A PARADIGM OF NEW ACTION

Jan Szczepański – The Seventieth Anniversary of the October Revolution	93
V. V. Mshvenieradze – The Great October, Restructuring, Politology	99
Grzegorz Białkowski – Has the Revolution Been Completed?	107

*

Lech Witkowski – The Structure of Social Revolutions (Some Remarks and Hypotheses)	117
Dariusz Aleksandrowicz – Hegelianism as the Metaphysics of Revolution	129

TRANSFORMATIONS OF MARXISM AND THE DIALOGUE OF PHILOSOPHIES

Stanisław Rainko – Toward a Creative Meaning of Marxism	139
Stanisław Kozyr-Kowalski – Marxism and Conceptual Scholasticism	151
V. N. Shevchenko – On the Contemporary Theory of Socialism (The October Revolution and Perestroika)	169

*

Piotr Bołtuć – In the Beginning Was the Contradiction: Problems of the Philosophy of Subject and Object	177
Janusz Bieniak – Remarks on the Dialogue Between Christians and Marxists	187

TOWARDS NEW FORMS OF SOCIAL LIFE

L. I. Novikowa – The October Revolution and Spiritual Renewal of Society	195
Janusz Reykowski – Is Socialism a Psychological Misunderstanding?	205
Zdzisław Cackowski – Fear and the Limits of Human Subjectivity	223

V. V. Zagladin – Perestroika as a Continuation of the October Revolution	233
Józef Borgosz – A Historic Chance for Military-Technical Dealienation and the Building of a World Without War	241
Andrzej Grzegorzcyk – New Social Self-Steering	251
<hr/>
About the Authors	255