

DIALOGUE AND UNIVERSALISM
No. 4/2014

A Change in Dialogue and Universalism	5
--	---

TECHNICS, MEDITATION, ATMOSPHERES. THE MAIN AREAS
OF GERNOT BÖHME'S PHILOSOPHY

Edited by Stanisław Czerniak

Editorial	7
Editor's Note	9

Gernot Böhme's Papers:

1. What Kind of Society Do We Want to Live in?	11
2. Meditation as the Exploration of Forms of Consciousness	21
3. Being Human Well. A Proto-ethic	32
4. My Body—My Lived-body	44
5. The Voice in Bodily Space	54
6. Light and Space. On the Phenomenology of Light	62
About Gernot Böhme	74
Gisbert Hoffmann — The Median Mode of Being	77
Rudolf Wolfgang Müller — Gernot Böhme— Anima Naturaliter Japonica	91
Beata Frydryczak — Landscape Garden as a Paradigmatic Model of Relationships between Human and Nature	103
Teresa Pękala — On the Aesthetic Experience of Nature and Time	115
Stanisław Czerniak — Between the Philosophy of Science and Philosophical Anthropology. Gernot Böhme's Critical Philosophy of Technology	125
Stanisław Czerniak — The Philosophy of Gernot Böhme and Critical Theory. Doctrinal Positions and Interdisciplinary Mediations	147

RELIGIONS AND THE HUMAN WORLD

Hisanori Kato — Islamic Fundamentalists' Approach to Multiculturalism. The Case of Al-mukmin School in Indonesia	171
Mikhail I. Mikhailov — The Aesthetic Meaning of Catholicism and Orthodoxy	187