

DO WE NEED A NEW ENLIGHTENMENT
FOR THE TWENTY-FIRST CENTURY?

Part III

Guest Editor: Robert Elliott Allinson

Editorial	5
-----------------	---

1. ICONIC FIGURES OF THE ENLIGHTENMENT

David Bevan, Patricia Werhane — Adam Smith, the Enlightenment, and His Relevance for the 21st Century	19
Tom L. Beauchamp — David Hume’s Universalism of Moral Precepts	33
Tatsuya Sakamoto — Hume’s Idea of a Perfect Commonwealth Revisited	47
Lawrence J. Kaplan — Between Action and Reflection: Moses Mendelssohn as an Enlightenment Philosopher and Traditional Jew	65
Igor Kaufman — The Reception of Spinoza and Mendelssohn in the Russian Enlightenment and the Russian-Jewish Haskalah	81

2. UNDERSTANDING THE INTELLECTUAL HISTORY
OF THE ENLIGHTENMENT

Davide Poggi — The Issue of Translation: Translation of Concepts or Compositio between Cultures? The Case of John Locke	103
Hiroki Ueno — Adam Smith between the Scottish and French Enlightenments .	127
Wojciech Starzyński — Three Enlightenments of Modernity in the Historico- Philosophical Conception of Kazimierz Twardowski	147
Alexandra Cook — The “Demarcation Problem” in Science: What Has Enlightenment Got to Do with It? Part I	165
Alexandra Cook — The “Demarcation Problem” in Science: What Has Enlightenment Got to Do with It? Part II	189

3. POINTING THE WAY TOWARD A NEW ENLIGHTENMENT:
UNDISCOVERED TREASURES AND EASTERN DIRECTIONS

Paul Lodge — Leibniz’s Philosophical Dream of Rational and Intuitive Enlightenment	203
Tanishé Otabe — Kakuzô Okakura and Another Enlightenment in Early Twentieth-Century Japan	221

Monique Whitaker — The Content/Object Equivocation: Shepherd's Neglected Contribution	233
Michael Slote — Against Psychological Atomism	249