

Environmental Philosophy

Fall 2020

Volume 17, Issue 2

CONTENTS

ARTICLES

- The Uncanny Wonder of Being Edible to Ticks Brian Hisao Onishi 199
- Animating the Inanimate—A Deconstructive-Phenomenological Account of Animism Thomas H. Bretz 221
- A Phenomenology of the Ground: Or, Notes on the Fallacy of Un-Earth-ing Philosophy O'neil Van Horn 253
- Climate Change and the Historicity of Nature in Hegel, Nishida, and Watsuji Lucy Schultz 271
- A Heideggerian Analysis of Renewable Energy and the Electric Grid: Converting Nature to Standing Reserve Rudy Kahsar 291
- How Plants Live: Individuality, Activity, and Self Matthew Hall 317

BOOK REVIEWS

- Pragmatist and American Philosophical Perspectives on Resilience—*
edited by Kelly A. Parker and Heather E. Keith Lauren Eichler 347
- Raw Veganism: The Philosophy of the Human Diet—*
by Carlo Alvaro Gregory F. Tague 352
- Reoccupy Earth: Notes Toward An Other Beginning—*
by David Wood Parker Biehn 357
- The Unconstructable Earth: An Ecology of Separation—*
by Frédéric Neyrat Marin Lucio Mare 362
- Nourishment: A Philosophy of the Political Body*
by Corine Pelluchon Marjolein Oele and Jacqueline Clement 366
- Pluriverse: A Post-Development Dictionary—*
edited by Ashish Kothari, Ariel Salleh, Arturo Escobar, and Federico Demaria, Alberto Acosta Kalpita Bhar Paul 372