

Table of Contents

Editor's Introduction	ii
Film's Limits: The Sequel -Bruce Russell	1
Philosophy in the Moving Image: Response to Bruce Russell -Noël Carroll	17
What Else Films Can Do: A Response to Bruce Russell -Thomas E. Wartenberg	27
Replies to Carroll and Wartenberg -Bruce Russell	35
Smoke and the Practice of Philosophy -J. Heath Atchley	41
Hostel : A Nightmare of the Hyperreal -Ben Convey	55
Two Problematic Theses in Carroll's Account of Horror -Brian Laetz	67
Cinema as Sacrifice: Borat and the Culture Industry -William Grundy	73
Self-Knowledge, Self-Deception, and Retaliation: Lessons from The Limey and The Godfather -Sean McAleer	89
Do You Have a Light?: The Failures and Special Effects of Godard's Alphaville -Ramsey Eric Ramsey and Diane Gruber	105
Tedium, Aesthetic Form, and Moral Insight in Silverlake Life -Kayley Vernallis	119
Defining the Moving Image: A Response to Noël Carroll -Robert Yanal	135