

CONTENTS

Editorial Note	iii
Human Freedom as Response	1
Medieval Jewish, Islamic, and Christian Perspectives on Love and Will	7
The Structure and Rhythms of Love in Today's World David B. Burrell, C.S.C.	13
Complacency and Concern in the Risen Life Frederick E. Crowe, SJ	17
Resting in Reality: Reflections on Crowe's 'Complacency and Concern' Mark J. Doorley	33
'Complacency and Concern' and a Basic Thesis on Grace Robert M. Doran, SJ	57
The Motion of Operative and Cooperative Grace: Retrievals and Explorations Jean-Marc Laporte, SJ	79
Limits, the Illimitable, and the Disciplined Imagination: George Eliot's Middlemarch Robert P. Lewis	95
Early Christianity and the Public Realm: Troeltsch's Distinctions of Gospel, Kingdom, and World Michael H. McCarthy	115
Enlightenment: Old and New Hugo A. Meynell	127
The Doxology of Joy Sebastian Moore, OSB	141
Reflections on the Appropriation of Moral Consciousness Elizabeth M. Morelli	161
Lonergan's Metaphysics of Value and Love: Some Proposed Clarifications and Implications Michael Vertin	189