

Table of Contents

PART 2	321
14. On the Paradox of Perception and the Emergence of the Absolute Consciousness in Husserl's Phenomenology — Saulius Geniusas	325
15. The Phenomenology of Embodiment in Communicology — Richard L. Lanigan	361
16. Body, Liquidity, and Flesh: Bachelard, Merleau-Ponty, and the Elements of Interpersonal Communication — Frank J. Macke	389
17. MetaTV — Paul Majkut	425
18. The Sartre Centenary: Why Sartre Now? — William McBride	441
19. Artificial Intelligence and the Phenomenology of Flesh — James Mensch	459
20. Seebohm, Husserl, and Dilthey — Thomas Nenon	473
21. The Future of Psychiatry and the Naturalization of Phenomenology — Marilyn Nissim-Sabat	489

22. Heidegger and Ethics — François Raffoul	501
23. Living Words and Concepts: Semantic Space and Semantic Texture — Harry P. Reeder	523
24. “A Strange Current of Sympathy and Knowledge”: The Experience of “Teched” as Portrayed by American Novelist and Agrarian Reformer Louis Bromfield — David Seamon	547
25. Husserlian Variations on Nature, Environment, and Earth: Toward a “Green” Phenomenology — Dennis Skocz	563
26. For Lack of Intentionality — Dallas Willard	593
Notes on Contributors	613
Chronicle of Phenomenological Organizations in this Area — Daniel Marcelle	623
Contents of the Five Volumes.	651