

Special Issue: Islamic Philosophy and Contemporary Philosophy of Religion

Guest Editors: Billy Dunaway and Jon McGinnis

Editors' Note 157
Billy Dunaway and Jon McGinnis

ARTICLES

Recovering a Role for Moral Character and Ascetic
Practice in Religious Epistemology 161
T. Ryan Byerly

Creative Imagining as Practical Knowing: an Akbariyya
Account 181
Reza Hadisi

Ontological Pluralism and Divine Naming: Insights from Avicenna 205
Joshua Lee Harris

In Pursuit of the World's Creator: Fakhr al-Dīn al-Rāzī on the Origins of the Universe in al-Maṭālib al-‘Āliya 233
Laura Hassan

Epistemic Paternalism, Open Group Inquiry, and Religious
Knowledge 261
Kirk Loughheed

Revelation, Moral Skepticism, and the Mu'tazilites 283
Amir Saemi

Illumination of the Heart: Doubt, Certainty, and Knowledge Acquisition in al-Ghazālī and Augustine 307
Julie Loveland Swanstrom

Can Al-Ghazālī's Conception of Modality Propose a Solution to Rowe's Argument against Divine Freedom? 331
Seyma Yazici

Knowledge and Theological Predication: Lessons from the Medieval Islamic Tradition 353
Billy Dunaway and Jon McGinnis