

ENVIRONMENTAL CHALLENGES TO BUSINESS

Joel Reichart and Patricia H. Werhane, Editors

Patrica H. Werhane and Joel Reichart, Introduction .....	1
Section I: Business and the Environment
Carolyn Merchant, Partnership Ethics: Business and the Environment .....	7
George G. Brenkert, Partners, Business and the Environment .....	19
Section II: Corporate Environmental Strategies and Ecology
Paul Shrivastava, Ecocentering Strategic Management .....	23
Laura Westra, Integrating the Social Contract and the Ecological Approach .....	45
Section III: Consumption
Mark Sagoff, Do We Consume Too Much? .....	53
Rogene A. Buchholz, Toward a New Ethic of Production and Consumption .....	75
Sandra B. Rosenthal, The Four Good Reasons for Limiting Consumption: A Pragmatic Perspective .....	85
Ernest Partridge, How Much is Too Much? .....	91
Gordon G. Sollars and R. Edward Freeman, Sagoff's Environmentalism: An Economic and Ethical Critique .....	101
Section IV: New Paradigms for Environmentally Sustainable Business
William A. McDonough, A Boat for Thoreau .....	115
Michael Gorman, Imaginative Design Challenges to 'Do We Consume Too Much?' .....	135
Section V: A Life-Centered Approach
R. Edward Freeman and Joel Reichart, Toward a Life-Centered Ethic for Business .	143
Bryan G. Norton, Clearing the Way for a Life-Centered Ethics for Business .....	159
Section VI: Some Difficult Dilemmas In Industrial Ecology
Kristen Shrader-Frechette, Ethics and the Challenge of Low Dose Exposures .....	167
Vivian E. Thomson, Getting the Lead Out: Grab-Bag Ethics in Environmental Policymaking .....	185
Section VII: The Environment as a Global Stakeholder
Lee E. Preston, Global Economy; Global Environment: Relationships and Regimes .....	205
Lisa Newton, A Scaffold for Muir: A Logic for Environmental Protection .....	219
Edward Stead and Jean Garner Stead, Earth: A Spiritual Stakeholder .....	231
Notes on Contributors .....	245

---

The Ruffin Series No. 2

A Publication of the Society for Business Ethics