

Contents

Introduction: Why Birth? FANNY SÖDERBÄCK	1
“A Child Has Been Born unto Us”: Arendt on Birth ADRIANA CAVARERO (TRANSLATED BY SILVIA GUSLANDI AND COSETTE BRUHNS)	12
“An Equivocal Couple Overwhelmed by Life”: A Phenomenological Analysis of Pregnancy SARA HEINÄMAA	31
This Birth and That: Surrogacy and Stratified Motherhood in India AMRITA PANDE	50
Negotiating Maternal Identity: Adrienne Rich’s Legacy for Inquiry into the Political-Philosophical Dimensions of Pregnancy and Childbirth CANDACE JOHNSON	65
Making Fetal Persons: Fetal Homicide, Ultrasound, and the Normative Significance of Birth CATHERINE MILLS	88
Speculative Reproduction: Biotechnologies and Ecologies in Thick Time ASTRIDA NEIMANIS	108