

Contents

Introduction	vii
Preface	ix
I. The “Ontological” Argument for the Existence of God
1. Augustine and Anselm	1
2. The Divine Perfection in Greek Thought to Plotinus	5
3. The Divine Perfection in Gregory of Nyssa	11
4. The Divine Perfection in Augustine	16
5. Incorruptibility in Augustine and His Predecessors	20
6. The Greek Background of the “Ontological” Argument	29
7. The “Ontological” Argument in Augustine and Anselm	32
8. The Moral Universe of Augustine	39
9. The “Ontological” Character of Augustine’s Argument	43
II. The Flight of the Soul
1. The Divine Origin of the Soul in Greek Thought to Plotinus	47
2. The Flight of the Soul in Augustine	52

3. The Flight of the Soul in Gregory of Nyssa	55
4. Development within Augustine's Thought	58
5. Augustine and Gregory of Nyssa Compared	62
6. Distinctive Features of Augustine's Treatment	70
III. Time and the Soul
1. The Relation of Time to Soul in Greek Thought to Plotinus	74
2. The Nature of Time in Gregory of Nyssa	77
3. The Psychological Approach of Augustine	82
4. Augustine and His Predecessors Compared	87
5. The Moral Aspect of Time	90
6. Conclusion	93
Notes	96
Index	116