

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS	vii
FOREWORD	1

1. AUTONOMY AND EMBODIMENT. THE WAY BACK TO THE UNAVAILABILITY OF THE BODY

Autonomy: as Self-determination against, or as Self-transcendence to Others? Anthropological Reflections on the Background of Bioethics Regine Kather, Freiburg University (Germany)	15
--	----

Why the Way we Consider the Body Matters: Reflections on four Bioethical Perspectives on the Human Body Silke Schicktanz, University Medical Center Göttingen (Germany)	45
--	----

2. AUTONOMY AND CARE FROM THE PERSPECTIVE OF END-OF-LIFE DECISION-MAKING

Autonomie als Selbstbestimmung und Fürsorge: aufgezeigt am Beispiel der Sterbehilfe Karl-Wilhelm Merks, Tilburg University (Netherlands)	79
--	----

Autonomie und Fürsorge. Die Perspektive des Rechts Volker Lipp, Göttingen University (Germany)	95
--	----

3. PECULIAR FORMS OF RESPONSIBILITY?

The Limits of Discourse Ethics Concerning the Responsibility toward Nature, Nonhuman Animals, and Future Generations Nicolae Morar, Purdue University (USA)	129
---	-----

Toward an Ethics of Species. Is there a Responsibility to Preserve the Integrity of (Human) Species?
Bogdan Olaru, Jassy Institute for Economic and Social Research (Romania)	159
The Principle of Responsibility for Illness and its Application in the Allocation of Health Care: A Critical Analysis
Eugen Huzum, Jassy Institute for Economic and Social Research (Romania)	191
Index of Concepts	221
Index of Names	227